CORPORATE

RESPONSIBILITY

For us, acting responsibly means: respecting law and legislation, conserving resources, promoting climate protection and fulfilling our due diligence obligations. Only when the implementation of responsibility is integrated into the thinking and actions of all employees can this become a decisive competitive advantage.

Our commitment to upholding human rights in our supply chain is firmly enshrined in our CHENGCHI Human Rights Policy Statement and guides the work of our employees worldwide. To provide guidance for new employees and to promote our core values and understanding of our collaboration with our international partners, the CHENGCHI Code of Conduct has been an integral part of our contracts for many years. Should there be a violation of the CHENGCHI Code of Conduct or any other complaint, this can be reported via our complaint form.

We strive to align our business processes responsibly and thus ensure their future viability. This includes identifying the social and environmental impacts of our business activities. These impacts are incorporated into the CHENGCHI risk analysis, from which we derive our future strategy. A key component of the risk analysis is supply chain transparency.

Sustainability – in ecological, social, and economic terms – is an ongoing process for us, one in which we actively support our factories. Together with our regional colleagues in the respective production countries, we assist our production facilities on their journey and promote them through appropriate measures. We regularly conduct our own site visits to our production facilities in the various countries and engage in dialogue with the local communities. Our focus is on the workers and the surrounding environment. Our collaboration with our business partners is guided by our CHENGCHI Sustainability Policy, which defines our principles of cooperation and establishes established processes. Furthermore, CHENGCHI is involved in various projects to help factories respond to emerging challenges.

DESIGN STUDIO

DIGITAL 3D DESIGN & COLLABORATIVE PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT

Our in-house design studio serves as your creative and technical partner, seamlessly bridging concept and production. We leverage advanced digital tools and deep material expertise to develop original, market-ready collections and provide precise technical specifications.

Our end-to-end process includes:

Concept & Trend Research: Utilizing AI-aided trend forecasting platforms like WGSN and Heuritech to identify market opportunities.

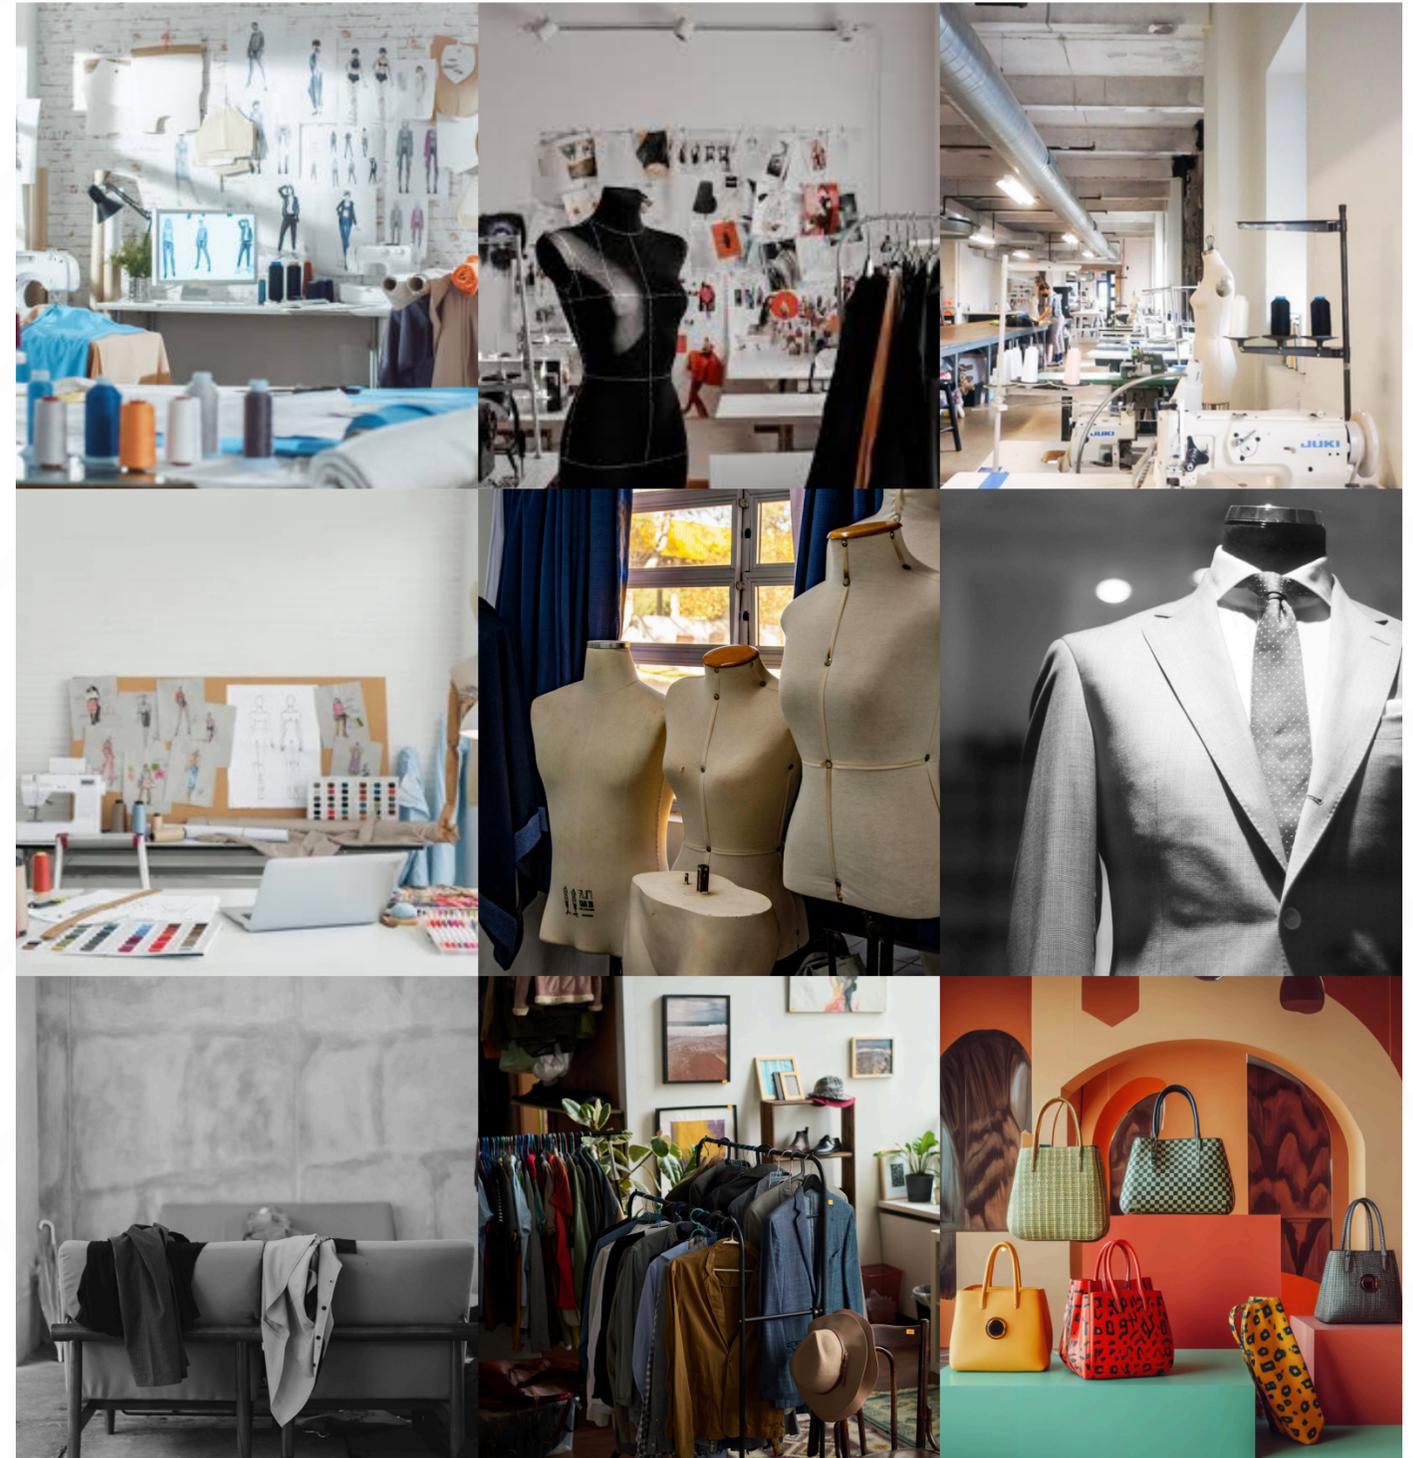

Digital Design & Sketching: Creating initial flats, detailed illustrations, and print/pattern artwork using Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop

Technical Design & Pattern Making: Developing precise digital patterns and conducting virtual fit sessions with Lectra Modaris and Optitex. We create graded rule sets for accurate sizing across all markets.

3D Prototyping & Visualization: Generating true-to-life 3D garment samples with CLO 3D or Browzwear VStitcher. This allows for real-time fit adjustments, fabric drape analysis, and color-way variations—reducing physical sampling time and cost by up to 50%.

Tech Pack Creation: Consolidating all data into bullet-proof, production-ready technical packages using Adobe Illustrator and Excel, ensuring absolute clarity for our manufacturing partners.

We don't just design; we engineer for manufacturability. Our process ensures your designs are technically flawless, cost-optimized, and delivered with complete, error-proof specification packages, guaranteeing a smooth handoff to production.
